A BOLD TRICK .- Messrs. Beecher & Johnson. forwarders, of Buffalo, recently shipped a load of four for Albany on board a scow boat. The cap tain, instead of bringing the flour through, began to dispose of it on his own account, and by the ûme he arrived at Utica he had disposed of his whole load and pocketed the proceeds, which was something over $2000. Not satisfied with this, he ran his boat (which did not belong to him) up the Chenango Canal, sold it, and received $500 more, with which he has absconded. Officers have been despatched after him, but he has not vet been arrested. [Albany Atlas.

HALF DONE .- On Sunday last a christening was performed in St. John's Church, Brooklyn. The Rector had proceeded some way in the service, when kneeling to make a prayer, and according to the new fashion turning his back towards the audience, the parents, who were not well schooled in the routine, thinking the service over, withdrew from the house with the child .-When the Rector rose from his knees and found the predicament in which the blunder of the parents had left him, he directed the organist to "go on" with his part, and so the matter ended.

NAMES OF STREETS .- Strangers complain very much, and very justly, of the difficulty they have in finding places in our city, from the want of signs on the corners of the streets. The burnt district, the great centre of business, is entirely deficient. NEW MODE OF MAKING SOAP .- The Wesminster Carrolltonian mentions the manufacture of a bar. rel of soap by Mrs. Moul, of that town, without the aid of fire. The whole process of change from ley to soap is effected by the heat of the sun, without any trouble. It must be regarded as an economical improvement on the old process.

BLIND BOY'S SERENADE .- One of the most gratifying occurrences experienced by the Governor, was a serenade by fourteen pupils of the Institution for the Blind, at Howard's Hotel, on Thursday evening. The music was excellent. The pupils were afterward most hospitably entertained by Messrs. II. [Express.

The following was received from a gentleman in Newark, N. J.:

In the month of Angust, 1812, I was taken with a severe cold which settled in my throat, causing violent inflammation. Several of our physicians visited me, without affording me any relief. I was now confined to my bed, without appetite and perfectly helpless, until the month of March, 1813, when a friend who had been cured by the use of it, recommended Sands's Sarsaparilla. The first bottle I took gave me such relief that I was determined to continue it, and after taking the third bottle, found my appetite restored and my health so much better that I could walk about and attend to my business. I need only say that my case was considered hopeless, nothing else gave me any relief. I was reduced so low that my family and friends gave me up for lost. I now cheerfully give the above for the benefit of any one who may be so afflicted, and will give any further information to any who may eall on me.

"Brant's Indian Pulmonary Balsam."—Abundant facts prove that living parts are endued with an innate tendency to relieve themselves from the operation of disease, provided the exciting or marhific cause be removed. If this were not the case, it is difficult to account for the restoration to a healthy state of an internal part which has undergone the process of inflammation: for internal remedies can do no more than neutralize the morbific cause, and the vessels must recover their vital contractifity by some inherent property connected with their own coats. Such being the case, what medicine will the most readily restore the natural functions by neutralizing the morbific action and restore the enaithfund between the functions of secretion and absorption? The answer is—"Brant's Indian Balsam." This fact is established by tests and trials so numerous as to place it beyond doubt. But if there should be a shade of doubt, inquire of a merchant in Beaver-street, residing at 96 McDougalestret, who has just been cured of a most aggravated. Scrofula in the neck. I know nothing of the effect of that Candy is the state of the candy in the candy in the state of the candy in the candy i

His Worm Candy is equally effectual in the destruction of Worms, both in children and adults. These Candies are as pleasant as peppermiat candy. Sold wholesale and retail at Dr. Covert's Office, 135 Nassaurst, N. Y.

This is a world of invention, but the greatest invention that has yet been made is a certain and safe cure for Coughs, Colors, Consumption, Bronchitis of Sork Throat, Drspersia, Asthma, Crour, Whoopfing Cough, Influence, and this Dr. Covert's Balm of Life will do in nivety-nine cases out of a hundred, if used is season, and a fair trial is given it. Its properties have been investigated by the medical faculty, and it has received their approbation, and by many skilling practitioners it is now being used for those complaints.—We have received numerous testimonials from Medical frosesors, and others in the practice of medicine. Articles have been written by medical gentlemen, and published through Medical Magazines and Medical Journals, in which this valuable article has been introduced as a cure for those complaints. We have also numerous testimonials from Clergy med and others who have tested its virtues and have been cured by its use; and to satisfy the public that what we say in reference to these certificates is true, we ask them to call and examine for themselves, they can be seen at any time at the office of Dr. Govert, 125 Nassau-street, where the medicine is for sale wholesale and tetail, and also of E. Chasteny, 150 Bowery, N. Y.

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills are a certain cure for every Wright's Indian Vegetable l'ills are a certain cure for every description of headache; because they cleanse the body from those morbid humors, which, if confined in the stomach are the cause of nausea and sickness, want of appetite, disagreeable taste in the mouth, bad breath, wasting of the gums, decayed teeth, and many other distressing complaints; and, when taken into the circulation and thrown upon the various parts of the body, give rise to every malady incident to man.

Four or five of said Indian Vegetable l'ills taken once in twenty-four hours, will, in a short time, put a complete stop to sick headache—at the same time the digestive organs will be restored to a healthy tone, and the blood so completely purified, that sick headache, or disease of any kind, will be in a manner impossible.

Beware of Counterfeits.—The public are cautioned against the many spurious medicines, which, in order to de-ceive, are made in outward appearance, closely to resemble the above wonderful Pills. GENTS.—I was for some time troubled with a severe cold and cough which gave me great pain and uneasiness. My cough was so bad it was impossible for me to speak above a whisper; this was not a momentary or triffing cough, but it was so bad that I was fearful I was already marked out as a victim to Consumption. I tried all the usual remedies for coughs and colds, but without receiving the least benefit. I was advised to the use of hot baths, sweats, &c. but received no benefit whatever. But after using all other remedies with no success, my son brought me a small quantity of your invaluable Hoanhound Candy, from the use of which I received immediate and permanent relief. Subsequently I have Been afflicted with the Influenza, and your Candy cured me in two days Justice to you and my fellow-men demands this expression of my gratitude.

"Like Sea Weed on a Clam," is an expression used by O. W. Holmes, to express the state of a young lady's hair, who had a prejudice against combs and brushes.—

We often see heads of hair that put us in mind of Holmes' grotesque simile. Yet how easily may this rough and course appearance be remedied. Every one who is acquainted with the effects of Jayme's Hair Tonie, knows that it imparts a silken gloss to the hair, creates a new and timer growth on bald places and delays the appearance of old Time's frosty favors, for many years.
